To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to provide a professional reference for John Cross, who served as Production Manager for Such Stuff Productions during our 2025 staging of The Tempest.

In this capacity, John Cross demonstrated a conscientious and thorough approach to all aspects of production management. He maintained clear and consistent communication across departments, ensured that schedules and logistical requirements were met, and contributed to the overall efficiency and cohesion of the production process. His attention to detail and steady oversight were instrumental in supporting the creative team and facilitating a smooth rehearsal and performance period.

John Cross approached his responsibilities with professionalism and reliability, and his conduct throughout the engagement was diligent. I am pleased to recommend him for further opportunities in both film and theatre production.

Yours sincerely,

Paul C Kininmonth
